EXTRA EARLY ACME.

Last year for the first time I introduced the Early Acme Potato which this picture herewith fully illustrates. The Acme is several days earlier than the Six Weeks' and a splendid good yielder; a regular good-sized potato. Round, smooth, tempting, and wins for grower the fancy prices that the first in the market always commands. Stock is limited. Place your orders at once. Dakota grown seed.

Price per bu. $1.25.

Sorghum for Forage and Fodder.

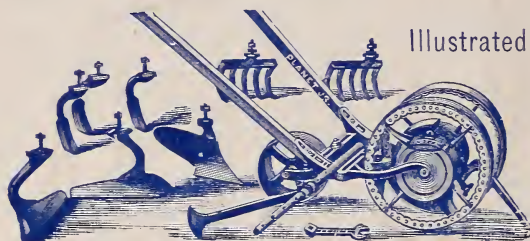

The common Sugar Cane or Sorghum, if our farmers only knew it, makes the best dry forage of any plant they could raise. It can be sown broadcast or in drills. Like corn, does best in rich, loamy soil, but will raise a good yield on the poorest land. The roots sink deep in the soil, and drouth does not effect it. It can be cut three times in one season and will turn out 10 to 15 tons per acre, yearly, of good provender for cattle, horses, sheep or hogs. It makes a pasture quicker than any other known plant. The EARLY AMBER is the kind to plant.
